

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN

Department of Economics

ECON 214.3 (06)
INTERMEDIATE MACROECONOMICS
T2 : 2024/25

Course Details

Time:	Monday and Wednesday, 10:00-11:20
Location:	ARTS 102
Prerequisites:	ECON 114; and ECON 211 or ECON 273
Course Description:	Presents the student with a formal analysis of national accounting, the consumption function, investment, public expenditure, taxes, budgets, money and interest, general equilibrium, the open economy, aggregate supply and demand, public policy, inflation, and growth theory.
Required Textbook:	S. D. Williamson, Macroeconomics . See below for details.
Website:	Some materials will be available on Canvas.

Expected Learning Outcomes

This course shows how economic aggregates such as GDP, aggregate consumption, unemployment and inflation can be studied and understood using formal models.

Upon successful completion, students will understand how aggregate outcomes are related to individual decisions and how policy affects the macroeconomy through behavioural changes. They will be familiar with simple dynamic general equilibrium models and be able to apply them to a range of problems.

Instructor

Andreas Pollak Phone: 966-5221
Arts 812 E-mail: a.pollak@usask.ca (preface subject with "ECON214")
Office Hours: TBD

Tutorials

There will be biweekly tutorial sessions starting in week 2 or 3 of the term. Further details will be announced at the beginning of the term.

Attendance is optional, but recommended.

In the tutorials, a teaching assistant will discuss assignments, solve problem sets, assist you in practicing for exams and answer your questions.

Course Outline and Readings

The required textbook for this course is:

S. D. Williamson, Macroeconomics, Sixth Canadian Edition, Pearson Education: Toronto, 2019.

[Please note: Using an older edition of the textbook or the American edition is fine, too.]

1. Introduction and Basics
 - 1.1. Macroeconomic Data and Variables
Williamson, Chapters 1 and 2
 - 1.2. Mathematical and Microeconomic Foundations
Williamson, Chapter 4
 - 1.3. A Static Market Clearing Model
Williamson, Chapter 5
2. Macroeconomic Dynamics
 - 2.1. Economic Growth
Williamson, Chapter 7
 - 2.2. Intertemporal Consumption Decisions
Williamson, Chapter 9

Williamson, Chapter 15 (pp. 390-405)

Required readings for each topic are printed in bold font.

The course outline and reading list are preliminary and may be updated during the term.

Evaluation

There will be three components to your grade:

Component	Date	Weight
Assignments	TBA	20%
Midterm Exam	TBA	20%
Final Exam	TBA	60%

The weight of the midterm will be shifted to the final if this results in a better overall grade.

Assignments:	You will complete a number of assignments (approx. 5) during the term. You will have at least one week to complete each assignment. While you are encouraged to cooperate solving the assignments, I expect the answers that are handed in to reflect students' individual contributions. Late assignments will not be accepted. Answer keys will be posted on Canvas, and the assignments will be discussed in in the tutorials. There will also be a similar number of "problem sets," which are comprised of practice questions similar to assignments. Just as assignments, the problem sets will be discussed in the tutorials and answer keys will be posted online. Even though they are not handed in and graded, it is recommended that you attempt to solve them before attending the tutorial or reading the answer key.
Exams:	There will be an 80-minute midterm exam and a 3-hour final. Exams will be cumulative and test your understanding of the subject material and your ability to analyze and formulate solutions to specific problems. The assignments are intended to assist you in the preparation for the exams, but note that exam questions are typically different from assignment questions. All exams are closed book. Electronic devices will not be permitted during examinations, with the exception of approved non-programmable calculators without communication functions. There will be no deferred midterms.
Missed Components:	If assignments or the midterm exam cannot be completed for a justifiable reason, it may be possible to make alternative arrangements prior to the due date at the instructor's discretion. If no such arrangements are made and the component is missed, a grade of 0 will be assigned, unless the student provides written documentation of circumstances beyond his or her control that prevented him or her from completing the assignment on time.
Attendance:	University policies apply. Regular attendance is highly recommended.
Participation:	There are no specific participation requirements.
Grading and Credit:	This course uses a percentage grading scheme. To receive credit for this course, an overall passing grade is required.
Grade Distribution:	See http://usask.pollak.org/?teaching for the historic grade distribution in this course.

Other Information

Recording of the Course
Students will be allowed to record lectures if they provide a reasonable rationale and if there are no objections by other students.

Midterm and Final Examination Scheduling Final examinations may be scheduled at any time during the examination period (see <https://students.usask.ca/academic-calendar/> for the specific dates this term); students should therefore avoid making prior travel, employment, or other commitments for this period. If a student is unable to write an exam through no fault of his or her own for medical or other valid reasons, documentation must be provided and an opportunity to write the missed exam may be given. Students are encouraged to review all examination policies and procedures: <http://students.usask.ca/academics/exams.php>

Integrity

The University of Saskatchewan is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity. <https://academic-integrity.usask.ca/>

Students are urged to read the Regulations on Academic Misconduct and to avoid any behaviours that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence.

For help developing the skills for meeting academic integrity expectations, see: <https://academic-integrity.usask.ca/students.php>

Students are encouraged to ask their instructors for clarification on academic integrity requirements.

Examinations with Access and Equity Services (AES)

Access and Equity Services (AES) is available to provide support to students who require accommodations due to disability, family status, and religious observances.

Students who have disabilities (learning, medical, physical, or mental health) are strongly encouraged to register with Access and Equity Services (AES) if they have not already done so. Students who suspect they may have disabilities should contact AES for advice and referrals at any time. Those students who are registered with AES with mental health disabilities and who anticipate that they may have responses to certain course materials or topics, should discuss course content with their instructors prior to course add / drop dates.

Students who require accommodations for pregnancy or substantial parental/family duties should contact AES to discuss their situations and potentially register with that office.

Students who require accommodations due to religious practices that prohibit the writing of exams on religious holidays should contact AES to self-declare and determine which accommodations are appropriate. In general, students who are unable to write an exam due to a religious conflict do not register with AES but instead submit an exam conflict form through their PAWS account to arrange accommodations.

Any student registered with AES, as well as those who require accommodations on religious grounds, may request alternative arrangements for mid-term and final examinations by submitting a request to AES by the stated deadlines. Instructors shall provide the examinations for students who are being accommodated by the deadlines established by AES.

For more information or advice, visit <https://students.usask.ca/health/centres/access-equity-services.php>, or contact AES at 306-966-7273 (Voice/TTY 1-306-966-7276) or email aes@usask.ca.

Financial Support

Any student who faces challenges securing their food or housing and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact Student Central (<https://students.usask.ca/student-central.php>).

Aboriginal Students' Centre

The Aboriginal Students' Centre (ASC) is dedicated to supporting Aboriginal student academic and personal success. The centre offers personal, social, cultural and some academic supports to Métis, First Nations, and Inuit students. The centre is also dedicated to intercultural education, bringing Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal students together to learn from, with and about one another in a respectful, inclusive and safe environment. Students are encouraged to visit the ASC's Facebook page (<https://www.facebook.com/aboriginalstudentscentre/>) to learn more.

International Student and Study Abroad Centre

The International Student and Study Abroad Centre (ISSAC) supports student success and facilitates international education experiences at USask and abroad. ISSAC is here to assist all international undergraduate, graduate, exchange and English as a Second Language students in their transition to the University of Saskatchewan and to life in Canada. ISSAC offers advising and support on matters that affect international students and their families and on matters related to studying abroad as University of Saskatchewan students. Please visit students.usask.ca for more information.
